

Your art can tell a story.

The It's Time Campaign is hosting an art exhibition featuring pieces inspired by violent extremism and the victims it has claimed. The exhibition will be held at a gallery with proceeds from the event benefitting our It's Time initiative. We are seeking artists to create pieces inspired by, or depicting a cause relating to violent extremism, refugees and Muslim narratives, Islam, love, compassion, peace and any other additional themes that may reflect the positivity of what this campaign stands for. We feel this is a unique way to greater unite the cause and community.

Featured pieces can be of any medium (painting, sculpture, drawing, photography, etc.) and will be auctioned off. Auction proceeds will benefit refugee charities.

The show will be held at the Rochester Institute of Technology Vignelli Center from 5:00pm-8:00pm on Monday, April 25th 2016.
